GETTING HERE

Driving

The University is at Falmer on the A27 between Brighton and Lewes, about four miles from the centre of Brighton.

Follow signs for the University of Sussex, which is on the north side of the A27.

If you are coming from London and the north, take the M23/A23 road towards Brighton. Before you enter Brighton, join the A27 eastbound signposting Lewes. If you're travelling from the east or west take the A27 direct to the University.

Parking

Minibuses and cars can park on campus and then register their number plate via the tablet (within an hour of arrival) at the Sport Centre reception (this is essential to avoid receiving a fine). Coaches should park at the American Express Stadium.

Public Transport

You can reach the University of Sussex directly from Brighton Station and Lewes Station. Falmer Station is directly opposite the campus. You can walk to the campus from the station through a subway under the A27.
